Kirsten Hines will be our speaker at the January 2021 meeting. She is a Coconut Grove-based author, photographer, and conservationist with an M.S. in biology. Her work highlights nature and wildlife around the world, as well as closer to home where she aims to inspire the re-greening of South Florida's urban corridor. She is co-author of four non-fiction Florida books including the award-winning gardening reference Attracting Birds to South Florida Gardens. Her photography is also featured in the award-winning coffee table book Birds of Fairchild. Kirsten is a conservation associate of the Institute for Regional Conservation and co-author of its online plant resource, Natives for Your Neighborhood. Kirsten also serves on the boards of Audubon Florida and Tropical Audubon Society where she is currently over-seeing the installation of a bird-friendly demonstration garden. You can learn more about Kirsten and her work on her website at www.KirstenHines.com.
