Paradise Palms Botanical & Sculpture Gardens has arranged its collection into different geographical sections, which we hope you enjoy touring the property as you take an enchanting journey through an eclectic blend of sculptural marvels, diverse botanical treasures, and captivating natural beauty.

Bamboo Forest and Zen Garden:

As you stroll along a carefully crafted wooden path, you can hear the soothing sound of the bamboo culms gently clacking in the breeze. The bamboo grove has been in existence for many years, predating its incorporation into Paradise Palms.

Paradise Mountain and Conservatory

Perched atop the tallest mountain in West Delray, the landscape's foundation is crafted from soil excavated during the creation of two small lakes. Ascending to the summit reveals a panoramic spectacle, featuring an assortment of cacti, diverse trees, and a captivating overlook onto the Conservatory, a sprawling space, showcases a magnificent banyan tree.
